Dear Mr. Woods:

In the multitude of your other affairs it may not have occurred to you that my little friends the squirrels in the Capitol grounds may possibly be short of houses for the approaching winter. They have increased considerably in number, and may suffer if they are not provided for. As I have been feeding them every winter and a great part of the summer, we have become great friends, and I feel a great deal of interest in their welfare, as they are nice little fellows.

Very truly yours,

Geo. A. Gustin

I join in Mr. Gustin's wish for increased quarters for the squirrels.

W. W. Myners

Mr. Elliott Woods,

Superintendent, U. S. Capitol.
